

DUAL GOVERNMENT EXISTS IN EMPIRE STATE TODAY

SULZER STILL INSISTS HE IS THE STATE'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

COURTS MUST DECIDE

Many Complications Have Arisen
Owing to Impeachment Proceedings Being Started.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 13.—The complex machinery of the state government over which William Sulzer and Martin H. Glynn claim sole authority, had fair today to be thrown out of gear by their rival attempts to direct it.

Departments Divided.
Heads of the many departments were divided into two groups. One of these groups under the leadership of Sulzer adhered to his contention that his impeachment yesterday was unconstitutional and prepared to continue their obedience to his instructions as if there had been no impeachment.

The other holding that he ceased to be governor when the senate received the articles of impeachment charged against him was marshalled under the standard of Glynn ready to carry out his orders and to ignore any which the impeached governor might see fit to issue.

Are Demoralized.
Never in the history of the state has its army of employes been more demoralized nor does the panic affect only the internal affairs of New York. It extends to the state's relations with other commonwealths and unless the issue is speedily settled there is every indication that other states will shortly find themselves in the perplexing situation of deciding for themselves who is governor.

To Sign Papers.
An instance of this situation was revealed in the announced intention of both Glynn and Sulzer to sign requisition papers for prisoners held in the name of New York beyond its borders. Whatever today's settled there is every indication that other states will shortly find themselves in the perplexing situation of deciding for themselves who is governor.

Recognize Glynn.
Reports today were that such recognition would be granted by the senate by confirming the appointment of Governor Glynn of a state labor commissioner. Adam Elkus of New York City was said to be the man favored by Mr. Glynn for the office. The great seal of the state of New York was still in the possession of Governor Sulzer, notwithstanding the claim of his opponents that it legally passed out of his keeping and into the custody of the lieutenant governor when the senate received the articles of impeachment yesterday.

Sulzer Defiant.
Sulzer still occupies the executive chamber and will continue to occupy it until he is removed by the impeachment trial is under way. He still occupies the executive mansion. Although Governor Sulzer and his counselors, a group with wide reputations as lawyers of ability, played the impeachment formally to the time being on the ground that it was unconstitutional the governor will make a spirited defense before the court of impeachment which will convene on Monday September 22.

Mrs. Sulzer Ill.
The governor's wife sat in the state of collapse at the executive mansion this forenoon. To friend who visited her bedside, she declared that she was feeling alone was to blame for bringing her husband the mountain of trouble he faces. A specialist on nervous disorders summoned by wire from New York said that she is in constant attendance upon her.

Affects Governor.
Her illness has affected the governor deeply. When he learned the nature of her condition, he declared in an outburst of impulsiveness that he would never permit her to take the witness stand at his trial. Friends expect to discontinue the trial from the governor's condition improve sufficiently, as they believe that the governor's case will be materially strengthened when she tells her story to the court.

In Excellent Spirits.
Gov. Sulzer came to the capitol shortly before eleven this morning and went directly to his private office off the executive chambers through a side entrance.

"Everybody in the state of New York ought to be with me in the fight," he said.

Mr. Sulzer seemed refreshed by a night's rest and was in excellent spirits. He walked slowly up the winding walk leading to the main entrance of the capitol building, bowing right and left to the hundreds or so persons who recognized him. Half a dozen times his progress was retarded by newspaper photographers, each of whom he paused a moment.

Nothing to Say.
"You know we had a conference over at the People's House last night my lawyers and I," the governor said to the reporters. "They made me promise not to talk. There is not a word that I can tell you."

He had hardly reached his office before Patrick E. McCabe, clerk of the senate, sent in word that he wanted to wait on him and the governor said he would see him a minute. The articles of the impeachment and the summons were served by McCabe on the governor at 11:06 o'clock. "All right," said Mr. Sulzer in accepting service. Lieutenant Governor Glynn reached the capitol at 11:25 o'clock and went to his office on the third floor.

To Act As Governor.
"I shall exercise the functions of government as before me," he said. "However, I shall use my own staff and not enlist the aid of the militia."

terests bitter toward her husband. "Mrs. Sulzer, far from acting with intent to do wrong, was entirely unconscious of the gravity of the offense when she bought stock with a part of her husband's campaign contributions," asserted a close friend of the Sulzer family today.

Mr. Sulzer's innocent. "On the contrary I bought she was doing a sensible thing. Her husband was involved in debt when he began his campaign for the governorship. He had saved nothing during the campaign and was in a desperate financial straits at Washington. He is not a business man and his wife thought she was entirely within her rights by providing for the future by putting away something for a rainy day, even without his knowledge."

The governor's friends who believe that the court of impeachment will never convene to try his case, based their opinion on the tentative plan of his trial and the court review of the constitutionality of the impeachment proceedings prior to September 18. This review they assert probably will be started by mandamus proceedings to compel obedience to his orders. The first defendant in the case who refuses to recognize the claim that he is still governor.

No Undignified Fight.
There will be no undignified fight for the governorship according to statements being forth from the offices of both claimants for the office. Mr. Glynn has announced that there will be no "circus or military maneuvers" about occupying the executive chamber.

Are Demoralized.
D. Cady Herrick, chief of the large staff of Mr. Sulzer's counsel, declared last night there would be no "physical scramble" on his client's part. "The fight will be fought in the courts," he has issued emphatic instructions to Mr. Sulzer that he must under no consideration discuss his case for publication.

Mrs. Sulzer Ill.
Mrs. Sulzer's illness is so serious as to be regarded as critical, according to an announcement made today by Gov. Sulzer's secretary. Two additional specialists were summoned from New York City by telegraph this morning to attend her.

Suit Not Dropped.
Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—Following her statement that she had dropped her suit for breach of promise against Governor Sulzer, Miss Mignon Hopkins, the pretty cloak model today declared she expected to continue her lawsuit proceedings against Mr. Sulzer.

HAVE LARGE SUPPLY OF WISCONSIN RYE

Several Thousand Bushels of Pedigree Seed Will Be Distributed to Farmers of State.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 14.—That there are several thousand bushels of the famous Wisconsin pedigree rye ready for distribution to farmers; desirous of sowing it this fall is the announcement of Prof. R. A. Moore of the college of agriculture at the university. This variety of rye, which has had fifteen years of experimental breeding work placed upon it by the agronomy department, made the yield over 40 bushels per acre last year. By actual test it was found that this variety of rye would yield eight and seven-tenths bushels per acre more than the average yield of other standard varieties. This variety was first disseminated among the members of the Wisconsin Experiment association two years ago, and it has given such satisfaction that it will be given general distribution this year. Prof. Moore said that the best time to sow the crop was between August 15 and Sept. 20. He anticipates an unusually large call for the seed.

'GOOD ROADS' DAYS BEGIN IN ALABAMA

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 14.—In accordance with the movement inaugurated by the Alabama Good Roads Association earlier in the summer, a large percentage of the able bodied men in the rural districts of the state began today on the task of repairing and improving the roads in their respective localities. Great activity is reported from all counties of Alabama and the work will be continued for three days. The county authorities have taken great interest in the movement and everywhere appeals were made to the citizens to observe Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week as Good Roads Days and contribute as much as possible to the material improvement of the county roads in every county of the state.

NEWS GATHERERS OUTING OPENED AT KALISPELL

Kalispell, Mont., Aug. 14.—Hundreds of newspaper men from all sections of the state, many of them accompanied by their wives and daughters, have arrived here to take part in the annual meeting of the Montana Press Association which opened here today for a session extending over three days. The city is being decorated in honor of the visitors and as this convention is to be marked by brilliant fetes and notable social events, business has been practically suspended for the time being. The local newspaper men and citizens in general have made liberal provisions for the entertainment of the visitors and among the features of the program will be excursions on Flathead Lake, to Glacier National Park and several other points of interest in this vicinity.

NEW BRUNSWICK LUMBER KING DIES AT AN ADVANCED AGE

Frederick, N. B., Aug. 14.—Alexander Gibson, New Brunswick's lumber king, died here today at the age of 94. Started as a poor boy, Mr. Gibson rose in a dozen years to wealth and power. For forty years he cut an average of thirty million feet of lumber a year mostly for English and European markets. He also had extensive railroad and cotton mill interests.

TOWN OF VALLONIA HUNDRED YEARS OLD

Indiana Village Has Interesting History—Once Within One Vote of Becoming State Capital.

Brownstown, Ind., Aug. 14.—The town of Vallonia, Jackson County, three miles west of here, which claims the distinction of being the oldest town in this state, began the two-day celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of its foundation today. Thousands of visitors from all sections of the state have gathered at Vallonia to witness the many interesting features for which the program of the celebration provides. The old "Treaty Tree," Aaron Burr's Cabin, the Craft Tannery and other interesting mementos of a century ago were visited today by large crowds of visitors and the historical tablet and pageants attracted the attention and admiration of the visitors. The celebration will be continued and brought to a close tomorrow.

Much of the early history of Jackson county and northern Indiana clusters around the historic town of Vallonia, which also claims the distinction of having come within one vote of becoming the capital of Indiana. The territorial government was moved from Vincennes to Corydon, the commission appointed for that purpose came near deciding on Vallonia as a compromise between political factions quarreling about the location of the new capital.

FORMALLY PRESENT NEW FLAG OF PEACE

Impressive Ceremony Attends Perry Centennial Celebration at Green Bay.

Green Bay, Aug. 14.—The flag of peace with the stars changed somewhat from the original flag was presented on board the Wolverine this morning to President Sisson of the Perry victory centennial celebration committee by Judge T. C. Jones of Pittsburgh. It was given in behalf of Wayne Whipple of Germantown, Pa., who designed the flag. It is expected congress will adopt the flag in short order. The ceremony was witnessed by officers of the Wolverine and the committee of the Green Bay Perry celebration and was very impressive. The Wolverine with the Niagara in tow left port for Chicago at eleven this morning. Captain Morris stated that a stop of about four hours will be made at Saeboyan.

CHARLTON TO ITALY TO FACE HIS TRIAL

Confessed Wife Murderer Leaves Native Land Today to Face Trial on Foreign Shore.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Carter Charlton, confessed wife murderer left his home country today to be tried in Italy for the murder of his wife, Mary Scott Castle Charlton, and throwing her body in Lake Como. The steamship Le D'Italia, on which the prisoner travels third class in charge of Italian officers, left New York at 10 o'clock. Italy has a death penalty, but Charlton faces the possibility of solitary confinement for life. His father, Judge Paul Charlton, a Yale classmate of ex President Taft, will attend the trial.

SHOOTING FRAY MAY END IN A ROMANCE

La Crosse, Aug. 14.—The shooting of Mrs. Gilles at the residence of her divorced husband a week ago has broken up one romance and renewed another. Gilles, who is held in jail on suspicion of being involved in the shooting of his former wife, announced today that his engagement to Miss Eva Losey to marry whom he had taken out a license on the day before the incident occurred, had been broken off. Miss Losey, who comes from the same town as the woman shot, is now in the hospital, recovering from her wound and she and Gilles will re-marry and begin life anew. Police have no proof against the man who insists that the woman shot herself and he will probably be released within a few days unless Mrs. Gilles case takes a turn for the worse and she should make a statement accusing him of the deed.

YOUNG PRESBYTERIANS MEET IN WATERLOO

Waterloo, Ia., Aug. 14.—Young Presbyterians from all sections of the country are gathered here to attend the twenty-second annual convention of the Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian church, which opened its session, scheduled to continue until Sunday evening, today. During the forenoon and early afternoon the arriving delegates were received by special committees, receptions were held and the delegates were registered. The convention proper opens this evening with a parade service and general session, which the delegates will be welcomed to the city. There will be sessions and devotional services every day, including Sunday, when the convention will be brought to a close with a service conducted by the Rev. C. R. Stevenson, the incoming chairman of the Young People's Christian union's general committee.

PRESIDENT W. H. LOCKE OF PHILADELPHIA DIES

Philadelphia, Aug. 14.—William H. Locke, president of the Philadelphia National Baseball club died at 10 o'clock in a suburb of Atlantic City, after a long illness.

LONG DROUTH STILL REIGNS SUPREME IN KANSAS; NO RELIEF

Water Supply Drying Fast, Wells and Streams Beginning to Fail—Crops All Ruined.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 14.—Fresh reports of exhausted water supplies, illness from bad water, crops burned and general redemption and panic conditions among the livestock raisers reached here on the eleventh consecutive day of extreme heat in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. Rain-fall in the last twenty-four hours has been negligible and prospects for more in the next twenty-four hours are of the poorest.

Wells from which the water supply of Lawrence, Kansas, a city of 20,000 was obtained were dry today and water from the Kansas river now very low, was turned into the mains. The cisterns of Lawrence are dry and wells are rapidly becoming about. Wichita many fields have been scorched by the sun that the dry blades have blown from the corn stalks and the corn can scarcely be picked up. The last heavy rain in the district was on April 7. The authorities at Sedgewick county are taking advantage of the dry rivers and creeks to build bridges. In the district about Hutchinson, Kansas, although there has been no good rain for a week and the heat has been intense, crops and livestock have suffered little because of the sand strata underfoot. Water from the creek and market gardens and alfalfa fields in the district are being irrigated from this underflow. St. Joseph, Mo., reported today two deaths from heat prostration in the last 24 hours. In the corn raising district about St. Joseph farmers have abandoned hope of saving the grain and are cutting the stalks for fodder.

PETITION HOUSE FOR SUFFRAGE COMMITTEE

Delegation of Women Appear Before House Rules Committee With Request.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Supported in their argument by several members of the house, delegates to the national council of women appeared today before the house rules committee to urge the creation of a woman suffrage committee in the lower branch of congress. The women here of the last 24 hours. In the corn raising district about St. Joseph farmers have abandoned hope of saving the grain and are cutting the stalks for fodder.

LA-CROSSE PHYSICAL CONNECTION ACTION MAY BE APPEALED TO UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 14.—Plans to take the La-Crosse telephone physical connection case through to the United States supreme court are disclosed by the appeal from the ruling of the railroad commission, which has just been filed with Attorney General Owen. Last May the commission ordered the "Bell" company to connect with the local telephone system in La-Crosse for the purpose of furnishing toll service. The "Bell" company has now started suit against Frank Winter, the La-Crosse telephone company and the railroad commission to have the order set aside.

MRS. PANKHURST RELEASED FROM HOLLOWAY JAIL

London, Aug. 14.—Sylvia Pankhurst was again released from Holloway jail today as the result of a third and hunger strike. She was in a condition of collapse.

Shopping Round!

It's a mighty interesting and instructive thing to visit the stores.

A live up-to-the-minute store is really an attractive exposition. It is a mirror of the world's work.

You could not see all the stores in a day—but you can pick out the ones most likely to interest you by reading the advertising in today's GAZETTE.

Let this advertising be a sort of tourist bureau, for you, saving you foot steps, and leading you directly to what you want to see.

Every advertisement is a notice from the merchant that his "latch string is out."

Keep up to date. See what is to be seen—take advantage of the courtesies extended to you.

You will find the advertising merchants of this town genial and thoughtful hosts.

K. T. DRILL TEAMS MAKE FINE SHOWING

Chicago, Milwaukee and Joliet Commanderies Demonstrate in Great Form at Denver Conclave.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 14.—Englewood commandery No. 55, Chicago, opened the continuation of competitive drilling at the conclave of the Knights Templar this morning with exhibitions of marching and cadence which among other competitions has not been surpassed.

Practically all of the teams on today's drilling program are the best to be found in the order. Joliet No. 4, Joliet, Ill., followed the Chicago team. Then in order came the St. Bernard No. 25, Chicago, and Ivanhoe No. 24 of Milwaukee, each of which gave the official judges little to decide upon as to which commandery team made the best showing.

The teams which were to compete in the afternoon are Orient No. 35 of Kansas City, Mo., California No. 19 of San Francisco, Chicago No. 19 of Chicago, Columbia No. 2 of Washington, D. C.

Competitive drilling closed with these teams and the judges took up the task of making the awards of merit.

Interest in the campaign for the office of grand junior warden in the grand commandery will be selected tomorrow continued today. There was no noticeable change in the gossip which pointed to Samuel P. Cochran, of Dallas, Texas, as the probable successful candidate.

The campaign instituted on behalf of George Valery of Denver for the office seemed to receive an impetus late yesterday and friends of W. H. Morris of Manchester, Iowa, have been sworn to stronger endeavors to prevent Valery's gain on the man from Iowa.

No opposition has yet appeared against Leonidas P. Newby, of Indiana, who is being mentioned as the right to fill the office of Senior Grand Warden.

Los Angeles continues to be the only city seriously mentioned in which the next conclave is to be held.

Los Angeles was selected as the place for the triennial conclave of the Knights Templar in 1914.

AMERICAN TOURING PARTY IN ACCIDENT

Philadelphia People Are Hurt in Serious Motor Car Accident in Devonshire.

Linton, Devonshire, Eng., Aug. 14.—Miss Margaret Eaton of Philadelphia was seriously injured today in the hospital here as the result of an auto accident yesterday in which William T. Anderson, Mrs. Anderson and Miss Annie Eaton, all of Philadelphia, were passengers.

The party were the guests of Mr. Elliott at Linton. While descending a hill in a motor car the wheels skidded and the machine dashed through a wall. The party fell fifty feet into the valley below.

NINE WORKMEN DEAD IN MINE ACCIDENT

Cable Pin Breaks, Allowing Ore Cars to Crash Down Steep Incline.

Clifton, Ariz., Aug. 14.—Nine men were killed and one probably fatally injured late yesterday when a cable pin snapped at the Coronado mine and two ore cars carrying 20 tons of ore and 13 miners dashed down a thirty-eight degree grade for a distance of 3,300 feet.

WHOLESALE CARNAGE IN CANTON BATTLE

Twelve Hundred Chinamen Killed in Battle Between Government Troops and Deserting Militia.

Canton, China, Aug. 14.—Twelve hundred were killed in the fighting in Canton City yesterday. Pillage is in progress everywhere. The government troops have joined the rebels and together they have looted the principal goldsmith and silver-smith stores. Local officials and any officers are powerless owing to dissension among themselves.

SENATOR ROOT WILL BE HONORED BY DEGREE

The Hague, The Netherlands, Aug. 14.—The fourth coming opening of the Palace of Peace on August 23 is to be commemorated by the University of Leyden by the bestowing of honorary degrees on Senator Elihu Root.

CAPTURES A HUGE HAWK BY USE OF STEEL TRAPS

Albert Eddy residing near Afton yesterday caught a huge chicken hawk which measured four feet from tip to tip, by the use of steel traps. The bird had been terrorizing the fowls in the chicken yards in the vicinity and had lately attacked and killed a half grown turkey on the Eddy farm. Using the turkey as bait young Eddy carefully concealed several ordinary traps in the grass. The huge bird was caught by both legs, one in each trap. This is an entirely new and original method of killing chicken hawks.

MURDERER OF SHAW IS STILL AT LARGE

Third Days' Search for Gust Penman Proves Futile.

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 14.—Gust Penman, the man who is sought in connection with the death of Harold A. Shaw, is still at large in spite of the fact that this the third day of the search for him.

WILL INVESTIGATE CARING FOR INSANE

Committee from New Jersey Will Come to Wisconsin to Study Methods Used in State.

Madison, Aug. 14.—Attracted by the statement of Amos W. Butler in a speech at Indianapolis that Wisconsin is the only state in the union that does not confine its insane in jails or poorhouses, a committee from New Jersey will visit here in October to make a thorough investigation of Wisconsin's methods of caring for the insane. The committee will be headed for by the legislature of New Jersey and will be reappointed by the governor.

NEW EVIDENCE TODAY INCRIMINATES DIGGS

Martha Warrington and Lola Norris Tell Stories Which Compel His Counsel to Abandon Defense Plan.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 14.—Martha Warrington finished her testimony in the Diggs case shortly before noon today and was followed on the witness stand by Lola Norris. There will be no further questioning of Miss Warrington either by the defense or the prosecution. Her testimony only gave stronger affirmation and the court cut short the questions after a "minute pursuit of the collateral matters."

Like her friend, Lola Norris is a very pretty girl. She was dressed in blue and wore some jewelry and carried a silver mesh vanity bag. Her veil did not hide the play of her features.

The plan of the defense of Diggs was given up today by his counsel in open court. Martha Warrington on the witness stand was questioned at length about the statement she made to Assistant District Attorney Atkinson on coming back to San Francisco from Reno.

"I did not see," pursued Attorney Cochran, "that on March 15th, 1913, you were charged on complaint of N. J. Sullivan probation officer of Sacramento county for contributing to the delinquency of a minor, namely, Evelyn Diggs." Evelyn Diggs is a daughter of the defendant.

REPORT LIFE LOSS VANCOUVER STRIKE

Six Strike Breakers Killed and Police Officers Wounded in Clash With Miners.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 14.—Police officers who returned here today from the extension line reported that six strike breakers had been killed and many members of the provincial constabulary wounded in a clash yesterday with striking miners. Other reports gave a smaller number of casualties.

AMERICAN REFUGEES HURRY TO LEAVE MEXICAN PORTS

Washington, Aug. 14.—With American refugees aboard the navy supply ship Glacier sailed late last night from Guaymas for San Francisco. She will take more Americans aboard at Topolobampo. The cruiser Tacoma reported today that she expected to reach Vera Cruz late Saturday or early Sunday. The gunboat Nashville is expected to sail from Port-au-Prince, N. H., navy yard Saturday and reach Santo Cruz about a week later.

NEW JERSEY BANK IS CLOSED BY AUTHORITIES

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 14.—Roseville Trust Company of Roseville, N. J., was today closed by the state banking authorities. Inspectors of the department examined the bank yesterday and discovered a shortage of about $200,000.

MISS PEET TO CLOSE ENGAGEMENT FRIDAY

SERVES APPETIZING DISHES TO WOMEN PRESENT AT HER DEMONSTRATION.

HUSBANDS INTERESTED

Welcome New Ideas Received by Wives at Lectures—Cake Without Butter Valuable Recipe.

A series of most delightful aromas escaped from the Assembly hall this afternoon where the Gazette's cooking school was in session. Men passing that way around three or four o'clock in the afternoon would halt for a second, gaze around with longing eyes and behold the great feast that kept them out of the cookery class conducted for their wives and daughters. The olfactory sense of one passerby would be tested by the delightful fragrance of browned lettuce. Then the subtle aroma of ribbon cake would tantalize the next. Then one would be greeted by the appetizing smell of frying croquettes, while another would sense the alluring steam from the baked steak. For Miss Peet prepared and served all these foods this afternoon before a most enthusiastic body of representative housewives and housewives to be, and it was with regret that the audience learned from her that she must close her Janesville engagement with tomorrow's lecture demonstration.

Husbands Wear Smiles. If the business machinery of Janesville runs more smoothly this week and from now on, this can be attributed to the fact that the human wheels and cogs of said machinery are being oiled by better than before. In other words, men of Janesville who transact the community's business are men whose wives are taking advantage of this great opportunity, the Gazette's cooking school, to learn new ways of conducting the "inner man." Volcanoes could be written upon the effect of properly prepared food upon mankind. It is a platitude to state that any business man can command, buy or sell with greater ability when his breakfast dinner or lunch has been properly prepared. The man who goes home in the evening and opens the meal's conversation with "What's this stuff?" lingers over a second or third helping of aforesaid "stuff." Husbands are being surprised at every meal by some new concoction and already a marked decrease in the weekly grocery bill is observed, especially the item of butter. For Miss Peet is showing how to make cake without butter, the most expensive of all cooking products. The Gazette will publish some special cake recipes tomorrow.

The Final Menu. At 9:20 tomorrow morning Miss Peet will prepare her last menu in Janesville. It will consist of the following:

Fried Fish
Doughnuts
Fried Eggs

Peculiar Frying Test Tomorrow Morning. Miss Peet, speaking of frying, said that she could fry fish, then onions and then potatoes in the same identical fat and that the potatoes would not taste of either the fish or the onions. One woman of the two potatoes would taste of the two, but strongly flavored foods, which had been previously fried in the same fat, but no sizzle—not a bit of it. "This," states Miss Peet, "is one of the most peculiar phases of modern day cookery."

Egg Salad. One quart lukewarm water, one cake yeast compressed, two level teaspoons salt, three level teaspoons sugar, two level teaspoons Crisco, three quarts sifted flour. Dissolve salt, sugar in water, then yeast, add flour, beat well until smooth; then add balance of flour, and mix until smooth and elastic, set aside to rise free from a thin film of temperature of 75 degrees F. until it doubles in bulk. Bread wants three risings.

Cheese Straws. Roll plain bread 1/2-inch thick longer than wide, add grated cheese to one half. Fold, roll, then add cheese; fold again, repeat three times, cut in to strips 5 inches long 1/4 inches wide. Bake in hot oven. Paprika can be used with cheese if desired.

Plain Pastry. One and one-half cups flour, one teaspoonful salt, one-half cupful Crisco, four tablespoons water. Sift the flour and salt and mix with Crisco into the flour with the fingers until it is finely divided. Then add the water sparingly, mixing it with a knife through the dry materials. Form into a dough, roll out on a floured board about 1/4-inch thick. Use a light motion in handling the rolling pin, and roll from the center outward. The Crisco should be of a consistency such that when scooped out with a spoon it would not crumble. Baking Powder Biscuits. Two cups flour, four level teaspoons baking powder, one level teaspoon salt, two level teaspoons Crisco, 1/4 cupful milk. Mix together the dry ingredients. Mix thoroughly with the Crisco, using a knife or spoon, and add milk gradually, mixing with a knife to a soft dough. Toss on floured board, pat and knead about 1/2-inch thick. Shape with a biscuit cutter, place in a floured tin and bake in a hot oven 12 or 15 minutes.

JUDGE GRIMM SATISFIED WITH BLOODHOUNDS' WORK

Dogs Trace a Trail From Ginseng Field to a House a Short Distance Away.

That Judge Grimm was well satisfied with the work of the Beloit bloodhounds was the report made to Chief Quilman by Sergeant Lanphear on his return from Jefferson, where he had taken the dogs to work on a Ginseng theft on the Judge Grimm farm.

Several times the dogs trailed from the Ginseng field where the Ginseng had been dug to a house a short distance away. They worked well, considering the fact that the trail was over a day old and rain had fallen in the meantime.

Sergeant Lanphear says that the amount of the theft is estimated at about $100. It was estimated from the ground overgrown that about forty or fifty bushels of Ginseng had been dug up, many of the roots being of good size. The field of three acres and a half is surrounded by a high board fence, along the top of which is a wire netting, and it was evident in one place where the marauders had dug their way under the boards.

Each time the dogs followed a scent leading to house about a block away. Sergeant Lanphear says that before they had reached the house a woman appeared and wanted to know if they had "lost something." The matter has not been thoroughly sifted, but the work of the Beloit bloodhounds will be followed by investigations, according to reports from Jefferson.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL NEEDS MORE FUNDS

Board Asks City Council for Sum of $4100 to Carry on Work During Present School Year.

Mayor Fathers has been notified that at the meeting of the Industrial School Board held at the high school building on August 11, it was decided that the work as planned for the coming year would necessitate an outlay of $4100 and the city council is petitioned that this sum be set aside for industrial school purposes so that the board may draw on it at the school year opens early in September. This notification was made in a communication from C. A. Buchholz, secretary of the board.

The appropriation requested is higher than that granted last year because of the increase in the number of students and the increase in the cost of the work. The sum is said to be the average expense of industrial schools in the state which have a principal. The board has some to some extent to equip the large vacant room in the Lincoln school building for the use of the industrial school classes, buying new benches and tools for general use. Individual sets of tools were purchased last year. Because of increased enrollment the school will require more teachers than last year and it will probably be in session five or six days in the week instead of two as formerly so that labor permit pupils can attend at the least inconvenience to their employers.

An institute for principals and teachers of training school classes will be held at Madison on September 15, and will be devoted principally to the discussion of industrial school curriculum and methods of instruction. Paul H. Novak, who last year taught the classes in salesmanship will read a paper on "Retail Selling and Store Management." H. C. Buell will discuss "Business Practice for Permit Pupils." Principal Charles Hill, "Safety Devices," "Teach and How," Guy W. Curtis, "Evening Shortland Classes," and Edward Elliott of the University of Wisconsin, will give the course in an engine practice will read a paper on that subject.

TO START DERRICK WORKING TOMORROW

Could Construction Company Hopes to Begin Driving Piles for South Temporary Foot-Bridge.

Superintendent Shook, in charge of the construction of the new Milwaukee street bridge, hopes to have the big derrick on the west side of the river ready for operation tomorrow and will drive piles to support the temporary foot-bridge on the south side of the street. The foot-bridge is completed about a third of the way across, but work on it could not be continued until some piles were driven to support the central portion. It will probably be completed by the end of the week.

Alf. Leppard, vice president of the Gould Construction company, arrived at the city yesterday from Mineral Point where the company is doing work for the Mineral Point Northern Railway. He will remain in Janesville until the work is well organized and under way. Mr. Leppard stated that a five-ton derrick now being loaded at Davenport for shipment here and with it will come an operating crew. It will be used to construct the third pier of the bridge and the derrick on the west side will build the first and second spans. The company is buying its lumber locally and one of the local firms has five or six carloads ready for it. An eight-foot beam fence is being erected on the north side of the west approach and a similar one will be built on the opposite side of the area occupied by machinery. The portable engine in the enclosure will be used to operate a submerged centrifugal pump and jet-pump when the cofferdams are sunk.

BIRDS SLAUGHTERED IN ELECTRIC STORM

Sparrows Find Trees a Convertible Electric Chair—Small Damage Done.

Last night's storm proved fatal to several flocks of English sparrows that made their roosting place in the shade trees of the first ward. Lightning struck the trees and where it would jump through a tree where it would jump to the limbs of the trees with fatal effect upon the birds.

In the tree in front of the Buggy garage on North Academy street there were over a hundred sparrows killed and the street and sidewalk was covered with their bodies. A bushy branch of the birds was picked up from under the large maple tree near Green's warehouse on West Bluff street.

During the storm a wind blew with such force that large limbs were blown down and the trees without leaves back of the county jail were damaged heavily and limbs were found in the middle of Park street. Little damage was done at the electric light plant although lightning entered through the wires and put the switch board out of commission. Electric lights went out soon after the storm but the employees were able to make repairs by this morning.

The Hamilton Richardson home on Prospect avenue was struck but the only evidence of the lightning's work was the removal of the covers from the kitchen stove. At the Wallace Hitchcock residence on Milton avenue the chimney was struck and demolished.

MISSISS BAHN ENTERTAIN BUSY BEE SEWING CLUB

The Busy Bee Sewing club held its second meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Misses Lillian and Mabel Bahr. Several new members were taken in. Those present were the Misses Frederica McBain, Irene McBain, Katherine Scholler, Elizabeth Scholler, Helen Fellows, Mabel Bahr, Genevieve Jensen, Margaret Bahr, Helen Garbutt and Lillian Bahr. The meeting proved to be a successful one.

There is no better way to dispose of your house or other property as through the medium of the want columns.

Miss Julia C. Lathrop.

Miss Julia C. Lathrop, head of the children's bureau in the department of labor at Washington, declared that one of the causes of the too high death rate among babies in this country is the lack of funds to employ competent health officers in towns and villages. In a pamphlet recently issued by her bureau, Miss Lathrop says: "The principal impediment to efficient work in the health departments of most of our cities is the lack of adequate funds either to pay a suitable salary to the health officer or to provide means for carrying on preventive measures intelligently."

CHANGE PLANS FOR PLAYGROUND PICNIC

Sixty-five Girls Attend Swimming Class This Morning—Jefferson Beats Webster.

For the first time since baseball has been started at the playgrounds the Jefferson boys were able to down the Webster school team this morning after nine innings of a tight baseball by the score of seven to eight at the Webster playgrounds.

Sixty-five girls were at the swimming lesson this morning at the Goose Island swimming beach and up to the Director Finley has been able to instruct twenty of the girls how to swim. The trip by automobile to the picnic place by automobile it has been decided to postpone the date and have the girls' playground picnic at Lake Delavan on the nineteenth of this month. The trip will be made by auto and Director Finley is anxious to have at least fifteen autos pledged so as to give the girls ample opportunity of holding a successful day's outing.

The boys' swimming meet will be staged early in September and will close the first year of playground work. The public will be invited to attend the water exercises to demonstrate the work done by having the swimming lessons.

RAINBOW LUNCHEON FOR MISS ROBERTS

Miss Ruth Humphrey and Miss Inda Stinson Entertain at Novel Affair This Afternoon.

Miss Ruth Humphrey and Miss Inda Stinson entertained at one o'clock this afternoon at the home of Miss Humphrey in the Cullen flats, Milwaukee avenue, in honor of Miss Ethel Roberts. Covers were laid for fifteen young ladies.

The affair was a "rainbow" luncheon with a prettily designed rainbow on each table. The place cards bore small booklets with the name of the guest on the outside and the menu, told in the story of love, on the inside. "Ambrosia" was the first course, "love in a cottage" the second, "heart's heart" for the third, "enchanted love" for the fourth, "hearts" for the fifth, "sweethearts" the sixth, "fond embraces" the seventh and "nectar" the eighth.

The decorations were green and white. The center of the table was filled with little oblong papers to represent the shower, and the rainbows followed the shower. At each place Miss Humphrey had an envelope containing a new penny for luck. Bridge was played in the afternoon. Miss Roberts was presented with a French etching by the hostess.

More Jailbirds: John Smith and Steve Lally were brought before Judge Field on a charge of intoxication this morning. Both pleaded guilty. Smith got eight days in jail for the charge of a fine of $5 and costs. Steve Lally got seven days. Lally is a cripple who hails from near Stoughton. He was very much unnerved as the result of his dissipation.

OBITUARY

Elizabeth T. Hogan, a niece of the late H. D. McKinney, died at Lorraine, Ohio, on Tuesday. She was born in this city and spent her earlier years here.

Mrs. L. D. McIntosh. Mrs. L. D. McIntosh died at her home, 323 Madison street, at 3:30 o'clock last evening, the cause of her death being a cancer with which she had suffered for many years. Mrs. McIntosh was born in New York state seventy-four years ago and has lived in Janesville most of her life. She had many friends who will mourn her passing. But one daughter survives her, Miss Cora McIntosh.

Look to True Accomplishment. An idle mind is possible with busy hands; so often this is forgotten. We may do many things and accomplish little, simply because the activity is skin deep, outward, superficial. We want rest for our attainments to sink in, to gather our harvest, understand and sift it. We may see too much to see anything clearly, hear too much to really listen; with much hastening we do not always arrive.

His "Maiden" Name. It is said at certain seasons in Scotland, when the fishermen are brisk, the fishermen act as caddies, and are easily recognized by their costume, a woolen jersey and trousers braced up to the armpits. One of these was asked his name by the gentleman for whom he was carrying, and the reply was: "Weel, sir, hereabouts they maistly ca' me 'Breaks,' but ma 'maiden' name is 'Broom.'"

Don't Let Worms Kill Your Hogs

They have started in on many herds this season and we can give you names of farmers who have lost from 20 to 60 head to date. Cleaned them out of hundreds of dollars and lots of hard work. The worms start in the stomach and intestines and as they grow larger, work their way into the liver, lungs and kidneys, in their search for more food. These are actual facts that have been shown right here in Rock County and every man that raises hogs is subject to the same treatment.

Don't Let the Worms Get the Start of You.

You can protect yourself at a small expense now and when you bury your dead stock you will wish you had spent a few dollars as a prevention.

SAL-VET

will rid your hogs of worms quicker and surer than anything on the market. It is a medicated salt and we have sold it for the past three years on a positive guarantee and we are right here to refund your money if it don't make good.

Every hog that dies means a loss to you and a loss to us. Get SAL-VET at once, 20 lbs., $1.25; 40 lbs., $2.25; 100 lbs., $5. We buy your grain, hay, straw, etc.

SPORT Snap-Shots

Two very lucky persons in the baseball world today are Larry McLean of the St. Louis Cardinals and Steve Yerkes of the Boston Red Sox. At any rate they seemed booked for a nice little piece of good fortune and the chances are that it'll go through. Last season Yerkes played with the Red Sox was practically a greenhorn in big league circles and yet he came in for a world's series the first season. It's quite a privilege to be a member of the world's champion ball team on such short notice this year though, the Boston bunch has not done anything so very schillingling nor yet has Yerkes. He has been tried out in various places, substituting and warming the bench and has failed to shine with a very particular brilliancy. And now comes the news that waivers have been asked on him by Boston and Connie Mack has claimed him. Pretty sort, eh? With the pennant practically put on ice by the Athletics, Yerkes will probably enjoy his second season on a championship team; and perhaps Larry McLean, for quite a few years Larry McLean was the leading catcher for the Cincinnati Reds and of course while at Cincy never got a smell of the pennant. However, Larry went to St. Louis and then along came Muggsy McGraw and offered the Cardinals Otis Crandall for the big catcher. The deal was made and now McLean is a member of the team that is booked to win the rag in the National League. In line for a nice piece of change, he is, when the end of the season draws nigh. All things considered both Yerkes and McLean may regard themselves as mighty lucky.

If the salaries of ball players should increase in the next few

It isn't every pitcher who can win two games out of three. The general average is said to be about 50 percent; but Humphries of the Chicago Cubs holds a record this year of having won two games out of every three played. Less than a half dozen pitchers in the National League have a record better than this.

FAST TIME IS MADE AT RACES WEDNESDAY

ROB ROY, WINNER OF FREE-FOR-ALL, TRAVELS SECOND HEAT AT 2:08.

EVERY HEAT IS CLOSE

Agnes K. Makes Sensational Race in 2:18 Pace With Field of Sixteen Starters.

Fast time, close heats and big fields marked the opening day of the Janesville races at the Driving Park association grounds Wednesday. The present meeting is the first on the Wisconsin Grand Circuit schedule, the next races on the circuit being at the Rock county fair at Evansville next week.

The free-for-all class race was the most keenly contested event of the day and finally went to Rob Roy, a fine bay gelding owned by John C. Haley of Madison and driven by Allemen. After finishing sixth in the first heat he captured the next three and made the best time of the day in the second heat, 2:08.

Addition, a brown gelding owned by B. C. Kimlin of Cherry Valley, Ill., pressed the winner for the free-for-all but received only third money with three seconds and one third. Second money under the rules of the American Trotting Association in force this year, went to Mazy Boy, owned by Paul Kickbusch of Wausau, who was the winner of the first heat.

Six Cylinder Penn, owned by J. M. Huguenin of this city, made a good showing in the 2:15 class trot, dividing second money with Hokala, owned at Miles City, Mont., and Lady Richmond, owned at Prophetstown, Ill. Ernest Axtell, a fine bay stallion, the property of L. Lindauer, Kaukauna, who won the race taking three successive heats, made an excellent showing. His best time was in the second heat in which he was pushed by Hokala, the figures being 2:13 1/2.

The largest field of starters was in the 2:10 pace in which sixteen horses were scored on the mile track. Agnes K., owned by D. J. Fennell of Ripon, made a sensational showing in this race, taking the three heats at 2:12 or under. She was hard pressed in the second heat by California Dillon and in the third heat by Great Onward who took second money.

John L. Fisher, who is starting judge, handled the large fields with the utmost fairness, and exerted every effort to score the horses with dispatch. His work was appreciated by the race fans, as well as the horsemen.

Every horse that was entered was pushed for the money which insured some exciting finishes. In several finishes whips were brought into play at the home stretch and the winner had a margin of but a few feet on several occasions.

CRANDALL TRIES OUT WITH ROCKFORD NINE

Milton College Pitcher Given Chance to Show Worth With Rockford State League.

Crandall, who has pitched winning ball for the Janesville Cardinals during the present season, pitched for the Rockford state league team this afternoon in an exhibition game at the Rockford league park. Crandall received the offer of the Rockford team manager but before trying out stated that he would not enter professional baseball until he has finished his course at Milton college. It is certain that Crandall will make good in baseball with more experience as he understands the game thoroughly and as a hurler in the cream. Unlike Tillie, he depends mainly on his control and outguesses the batter with his straight ones, putting it where he can't hit it. He can put the breaks and twists on the ball in the pinches and his underhand out is nearly always good for the third and telling strike.

Reflection on the Judges. "There are cross-roads there, your worship. Your worship know them well; they are close to a public-house," said a constable at the Kingston (Eng.) police court.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

Is the democratic party to be split in twain by factional differences? After years of useless fighting to gain control of the national government is this national political power to be made a mere by-word and joke for the personal ambitions of a few of the leaders who have so long been in the minority. Already desertions have begun. The following telegraphic dispatch from Boston tells of the defection of Governor Foss of that state from the ranks of democracy to the open candidacy of the republican nomination for governor. In New York state Tammany, typical of the democracy of the Empire state, has practically usurped the reins of government from the democratic government to whose support the progressive republicans of the legislature allied. Already in congress many of the democrats from southern states are strenuously objecting to the demands made upon them of party loyalty and would, if they dared break away and vote against the proposed tariff measure. The currency measure is also causing unusual uneasiness in the democratic party lines and if passed, as proposed, will mean another revolution. However the most significant movement back towards a republican regime is that of Governor Foss of Massachusetts, as told in the following dispatch:

"Gov. Eugene N. Foss, who has three times been chosen governor on the democratic ticket, has announced himself a candidate for another election, this time on the republican ticket."

"The governor issued a statement
in which he expressed dissatisfaction
with the present national administration. Recently he said he had been convinced that the present administration offered no hope for a satisfactory settlement of the tariff question."

"Gov. Foss has been a strong advocate of reciprocity. Last month he announced that because of tariff conditions many of the large manufacturers were being driven to locate in Canada, himself among them."

"Some years ago Gov. Foss was an ardent republican. He left that party because some of its tenets did not please him, and was elected to congress on the democratic ticket. Subsequently he ran for governor as a democrat and has been returned three times."

"In his statement Gov. Foss says:
"I am a candidate for the republican nomination and I will abide by the result of the republican primaries
and will not run later as an independent candidate if defeated."

"The action of the governor, who has been fighting for numerous reforms, is considered of nation-wide importance because of his high standing in the councils of the democratic party and also because of his great personal following."

"If he persists in his present determination, he will be opposed at the primaries by Everett C. Benton, last year's defeated republican candidate,
and Congressman August P. Gardner,
both of whom are already in the field
for the nomination."

TAMMANY'S REVENGE.

Tammany has claimed another victim. After creating Sulzer as its puppet to further its own selfish ends
they discovered too late they had placed in power a man who would not bow to their will, would not answer their beck and call, who even thought he was greater than the men who created him. Then they sought to destroy him. Whether they will succeed or not is uncertain, but they have made a good beginning. The failure of Governor Sulzer to follow
the dictates of the Tammany leaders

early in his administration brought forth a warning in the shape of a
"trumped up" charge of an indictment in another state for a crime. This fell flat but should have warned Sul-
zer. Then came the second charge, brought this time by a woman of doubtful reputation of wrongs she had suffered at the hands of the New York governor. This, also, failed in its effect. Meanwhile Governor Sulzer aimed at the very heart of Tammany's institutions by seeking to enact a direct primary law. It passed Tammany saw its political end. The time had come for radical action.
Sulzer refused to listen to reason and then came the rallying of the forces of the opposition and the passage of the charges by a narrow majority on Wednesday. Today New York state has a dual head. The departments of the government are in chaos as to which governor to recognize and until the matter is settled by court action it will be hard to say what the outcome is. Sulzer is the victim of Tammany because he refused to listen to their demands and stood for the people who elected him. He believed he had a mission to accomplish and because he dared to try and preach reform he is to be doomed to destruction. The specific charges brought against him are as follows:

Violation of six sections of the penal law are charged to Governor
William Sulzer in the articles of impeachment adopted by the assembly yesterday morning. Among the offenses charged are perjury, larceny, corrupt use of the office of governor,
and bribery of witnesses, summarized
as follows:

Perjury: Filed a false statement
of campaign contributions "wrongfully, willfully and corruptly," violating Section 1620 of the penal code.

Larceny: "Stole money and checks," contributed to the campaign, by appropriating them to his own use, in speculating in stocks, violating Sections 1290 and 1294 of the penal law.

Corrupt Use of Position As Governor: Threatened to use his influence and authority to affect the votes of Assemblymen Prime and Sweet, violating Section 775 of the penal law;
also of using his influence to affect prices on the New York Stock Exchange, violating Section 775 of the
penal law.

Bribery of Witnesses: Induced Sar-cock, Colwell and Fuller to withhold testimony before the Fawcett committee, violating Section 2400 of the
penal law.

Suppressing Evidence: "Practiced
deceit and fraud and used threats and menaces to prevent the testimony of Colwell and Fuller, violating Section
814 of the penal law."

Preventing and Dissuading a Witness: "Willfully and corruptly" dissuaded Colwell from appearing as a witness, violating Section 2441 of the
penal law.

TAMMANY'S REVENGE.

Tammany has claimed another victim. After creating Sulzer as its puppet to further its own selfish ends
they discovered too late they had placed in power a man who would not
bow to their will, would not answer
their beck and call, who even thought
he was greater than the men who created him. Then they sought to destroy him. Whether they will succeed or not is uncertain, but they have made a good beginning. The failure of Governor Sulzer to follow
the dictates of the Tammany leaders

early in his administration brought forth a warning in the shape of a
"trumped up" charge of an indictment
in another state for a crime. This fell flat but should have warned Sul-
zer. Then came the second charge,
brought this time by a woman of doubtful reputation of wrongs she had suffered at the hands of the New York governor. This, also, failed in its effect. Meanwhile Governor Sul-
zer aimed at the very heart of Tam-
many's institutions by seeking to enact a direct primary law. It passed Tammany saw its political end. The time had come for radical action.
Sulzer refused to listen to reason and
then came the rallying of the forces
of the opposition and the passage of the charges by a narrow majority on Wednesday. Today New York state
has a dual head. The departments of the government are in chaos as to which governor to recognize and until the matter is settled by court action it will be hard to say what the outcome is. Sulzer is the victim of Tammany because he refused to listen to their demands and stood for the people who elected him. He believed he had a mission to accomplish and because he dared to try and preach reform he is to be doomed to destruction. The specific charges brought against him are as follows:

Violation of six sections of the
penal law are charged to Governor
William Sulzer in the articles of impeachment adopted by the assembly
yesterday morning. Among the offenses charged are perjury, larceny,
corrupt use of the office of governor,
and bribery of witnesses, summarized
as follows:

Perjury: Filed a false statement
of campaign contributions "wrong-
fully, willfully and corruptly," violating Section 1620 of the penal code.

Larceny: "Stole money and
checks," contributed to the campaign, by appropriating them to his own use, in speculating in stocks, violating Sections 1290 and 1294 of the
penal law.

Corrupt Use of Position As Governor: Threatened to use his influence
and authority to affect the votes of Assemblymen Prime and Sweet, violating Section 775 of the penal law;
also of using his influence to affect
prices on the New York Stock Exchange, violating Section 775 of the
penal law.

Bribery of Witnesses: Induced Sar-cock, Colwell and Fuller to withhold
testimony before the Fawcett committee, violating Section 2400 of the
penal law.

Suppressing Evidence: "Practiced
deceit and fraud and used threats and menaces to prevent the testimony of
Colwell and Fuller, violating Section
814 of the penal law."

Preventing and Dissuading a Witness: "Willfully and corruptly" dissuaded Colwell from appearing as a witness, violating Section 2441 of the penal law.

ticket."

"The governor issued a statement
in which he expressed dissatisfaction
with the present national administration. Recently he said he had been convinced that the present administration offered no hope for a satisfactory settlement of the tariff question."

"Gov. Foss has been a strong advocate of reciprocity. Last month he announced that because of tariff conditions many of the large manufacturers were being driven to locate in Canada, himself among them."

"Some years ago Gov. Foss was an ardent republican. He left that party because some of its tenets did not
please him, and was elected to congress on the democratic ticket. Subsequently he ran for governor as a democrat and has been returned three
times."

"In his statement Gov. Foss says:
"I am a candidate for the republican nomination and I will abide by
the result of the republican primaries
and will not run later as an independent candidate if defeated."

"The action of the governor, who
has been fighting for numerous reforms, is considered of nation-wide importance because of his high standing in the councils of the democratic party and also because of his great
personal following."

"If he persists in his present determination, he will be opposed at the primaries by Everett C. Benton, last year's defeated republican candidate,
and Congressman August P. Gardner,
both of whom are already in the field
for the nomination."

"What size, please?" asked the clerk.

"The smallest you have."

"All right," said the clerk, knowingly, and handing out a pair of tens, "I think these will be about right. By the way, they're for your sweetheart, are they not?"

"Yes, of course," the customer replied, blushing to the roots of his

"Well, if you had been buying them for your wife you would have asked for a good large size and they would have been cotton."

Memories.
I remember, I remember.
When people went on hikes,
On pleasant Sunday afternoons,
Or rode those high-wheeled bikes.

I remember, I remember.
The good old chestnut bell,
Which jingled when someone
Had ancient jokes to tell.

I remember, I remember.
When it was a disgrace
To seek divorce, and was a Reflection on the race.

I remember, I remember.
The day of small expense,
When gasoline was selling
As low as thirteen cents.

I remember, I remember.
It seems far back to me
A quarter's worth of heelstuck
Would feed a family.

I remember, I remember.
The half I have not told,
I cannot dodge the issue,
I must be growing old.

"GIRL I RAN AWAY WITH BAD," HE SAYS

Maury Diggs, the young man who is now being tried in San Francisco on a charge of having violated the Mann white slave law by transporting Marsha Warrington from California to Nevada, is offering as a defense that the girl was bad before she met him. He will offer a number of witnesses from the tenderloins of Sacramento and San Francisco. According to the provisions of the Mann act, however, this defense alone will not serve to prevent conviction.

Where Theft is Unknown.

Finland is a realm whose inhabitants are remarkable for their inviolate integrity. There are no banks and no safe deposits, for no such security is essential. You may leave your luggage anywhere for any length of time, and be quite sure of finding it untouched on your return, and your purse full of money would be just as secure under similar circumstances.

The temperatures continue high in the lower Missouri valley.

PRACTICAL SWIMMING LESSONS

INSTRUCTION AND POSES BY TOM WHITAKER, SWIMMING INSTRUCTOR, M.A.C. ST. LOUIS

A Great Stroke for Distance. AFTER the breast stroke has been mastered the average swimmer is ambitious to acquire another stroke, either for speed purpose or merely to add to his swimming repertoire. For this class of swimmer, the writer cannot recommend a better stroke for all-round swimming than the double over-arm or 'Trudgeon' stroke. This stroke is the stroke used by all the great distance swimmers, and for ease of propulsion and relaxation is recognized as the best. It is a stroke that is an evolution from the underarm side stroke, and single over-arm stroke.

To swim this or any of the more complicated strokes, it is absolutely necessary to master the method of the breathing known as 'rhythmic breathing' which was described in a previous article. Before entering the water, stand with the heels together, bend forward at the waist, extend the arms straight out in front, palms down, elbows slightly bent. Pull the right arm down—through imaginary water—keeping the elbow stiff, until same as you did the right. The movement of the arms is an alternate one. The leg movement used in this stroke is known as the 'scissors kick'—or account of its similarity in action to a pair of scissors. Getting into the water, support the body by holding on to a ladder or the side of the tank, extend the legs straight back as far as they will go, keeping them in a straight line with the body. Then turn on the side—the side depending upon ter, inhale through the mouth as the left arm is brought forward through the air, by turning the head slightly to the side. More power can be gotten out of this kick by turning on the side when in the act of kicking, and by pulling the right arm under the body.

Timing the Stroke. The arm and leg movement can be worked together quite easily, if one will remember to kick the legs together just as the upper arm is about to start forward—if you swim on your right side it will be the left arm—so that as the left arm pulls through the water the legs are trailing motionless behind, the idea being to kick only once every two arm strokes.

To breathe correctly with this stroke, exhale through the nose under water as the left arm pulls through the water, inhale through the mouth as the left arm is brought forward through the air, by turning the head slightly to the side. More power can be gotten out of this kick by turning on the side when in the act of kicking, and by pulling the right arm under the body.

Great Summer End Mark Down Sale

Will Begin Saturday Morning, Aug. 16, at 9 O'clock Sharp

A Sale That We Have Been Planning For Months. It's the Final Round-Up---A Determined Effort to Clear the Decks of All Summer Merchandise. The Most Remarkable Reductions Ever Named For This Annual Event.

The inflexible rule of THE BIG STORE to carry over nothing from one season to another is the power that influences these slashing reductions. This is a money-saving event for you, no matter what you need. The few items of this advertisement are conclusive evidence of the genuineness of the savings to be offered in this event.

Come Expecting Values More Sensational Than Ever. You'll Not Be Disappointed.

An Extraordinary Sale of Colored Wash Dresses and White Lingerie Dresses

An event you will always remember, because of the low prices. It does not matter what material, model or coloring. It does not matter how much you wish to pay or how little; the identical dress you want is here in this great collection, and priced so low that no matter what your expenditure may be, you cannot get away from the proposition of buying a dress that is actually worth twice the amount you pay for it. One look will do more to convince you of their real value than a page of description.

Top, Sioux Indian woman and her agricultural exhibit which won first prize at Ft. Peck fair; bottom, Sioux Indian on field on Ft. Peck reservation.

The opening of Fort Peck Indian reservation in eastern Montana next month will mark the last big opening of agricultural land in the United States. Six new towns will be started on this new land area. Indians have farmed very successfully on Fort Peck reservation. It is estimated by agricultural experts that when this land is cultivated by white settlers it will add about 20,000,000 more bushels of grain to the nation's annual production.

EMANCIPATION DAY IS DULY OBSERVED

Colored Residents of Rock County Hold Annual Picnic at Ho-No-Ne-Gah Park.

This was a gala day for the colored residents of this section who observed emancipation day with a picnic at Ho-No-Ne-Gah Park. The affair was sponsored by the A. M. E. church of Beloit. H. Devine was chairman of the committee on arrangements, the other members being Harry Gupion, Beulah Johnson and Rev. J. D. Peterson. Robert Smith acted as master of ceremonies. A big barbecue was planned and barbecued meats served as one of the big features of the picnic. At 3 o'clock a ball game was staged between Rockford and Beloit, which was followed by races and jumping bag matches.

The speaking took place in the park between 1 and 2 o'clock and a fine program was given as arranged, the following speakers having been secured: Rev. E. G. Jackson, presiding officer; Rev. C. H. Thomas of Madison; and Rev. T. H. Lewis of Rockford.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

ROWING.

By Howard L. Rann.

ROWING is a form of muscular exertion which rewards devotees with handsome gold medals and others with large, pink callouses. It is very much in use at parks and summer resorts, and on a hot day can hardly be enjoyed from a boat other than a kind of manual labor.

There are various kinds of rowing, the most popular of which is the moonlight excursion in an Indian canoe on an inland sea bounded on the north by the ice cream parlor, on the east by the roller coaster, on the south by the bow-legged funnels, and on the west by fifty-seven varieties of cemetery.

The common people do most of their rowing in a deadly weapon known as the rowlock, which slays the rowers every year by turning over on its back and depositing its contents in several feet of water. The average rowboat has no keel, safety valve or sense of direction, and can change its course faster than a civil service employe can change his politics. The rowboat is the author of a graceful form of delirium entitled "catching a crab," by which an earnest sculler can miss the water altogether and tip over backward and insert both shoulders in the fried chicken and deviled eggs.

Given the right kind of company, rowing becomes one of the most interesting diversions outside of lighting the kitchen range with gasoline. Nothing is more exciting than to sit in a knock-kneed attitude in the stern of a rowboat and attempt to change places with somebody who insists upon clinging out on the oarlocks and balancing himself on one foot. Then we have always with us the peak-headed humorist who is not deterred by the high death rate or the sage advice of the coroner's jury and who rocks the boat with his mouth wide open and his mental processes on a general and protracted strike.

THE FINAL MENU

At 9:30 tomorrow morning Miss Peet will prepare her last menu in Janesville. It will consist of the following:

- Fried Fish
- Doughnuts
- Fried Eggs

Peculiar Frying Test Tomorrow Morning.

Miss Peet, in speaking of frying, said that she could fry fish, then onions and then potatoes in the same identical fat and that the potatoes would not taste of either the fish or the onions. One would think that the potatoes would taste of the two rather strongly flavored foods, which had been previously fried in the same fat, but no sice—not a bit of it. "This," states Miss Peet, "is one of the most peculiar phases of modern day cookery."

Saves Miles of Steps
For Tired Feet.

"Why Do You Use the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet?" we asked Miss Peet. "It saves miles of steps for tired feet," she answered quickly.

In a little space forty inches wide the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet groups ALL things one needs in preparing a meal. It puts everything at your fingers' end so you can sit down as you would at your piano. You work in comfort.

The scores of women right here in this town who use Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets find they are less tired at evening.

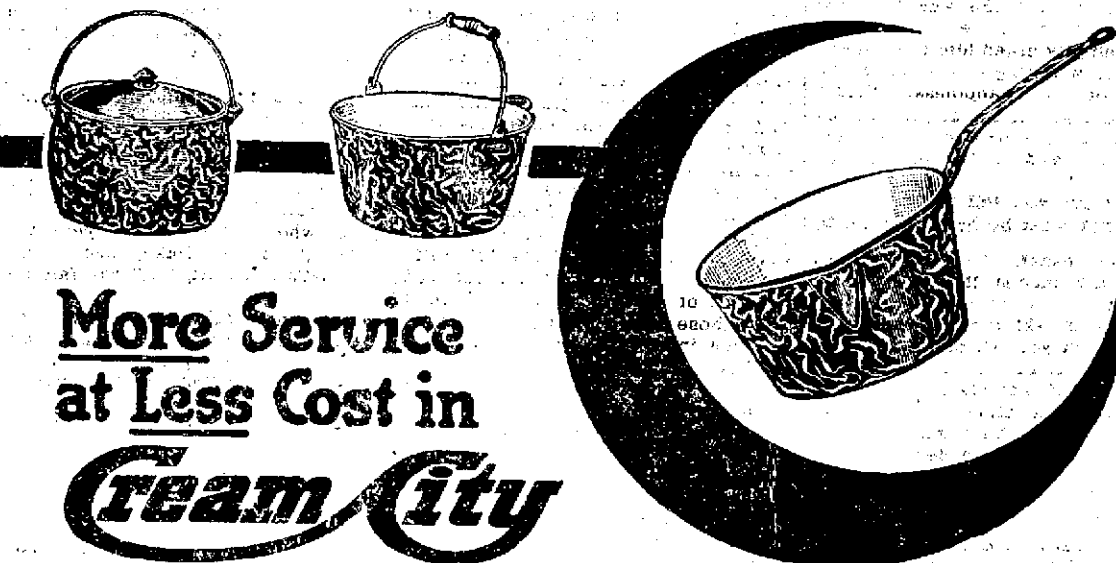

They get their work done more quickly—more systematically.

You may see the new Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet now—every detail inside and out is open to your inspection. No one is ever asked to buy a Hoosier Cabinet unless she wants it. Feel free to ask any questions you like when you come in to see this cabinet.

Sleep at School.
A new wrinkle in school work comes from St. Faith's school, Wadsworth, England, where tired children may sleep in hammocks during lesson hours. The children so favored are four or five years old, the infants of the school. Every afternoon a siesta in hammocks for tired children is provided, and they may sleep between or even during lessons. The infants are encouraged to rest because it is contended by a Miss Wild, who devised the hammocks, that the mind of a tired child can not retain the lessons taught.

CHAPTER XXII.

The Hour of Reckoning.
Mark Robertson and his wife, left alone, together, in the other end of the great library, faced the situation for which Grace had so long been preparing and for which her frightened years of preparation had proved so useless.

He knew. That was all. And no word of hers could gloss over or make bearable the truth. Wherefore she spoke no word, but stood looking at him; taking in every detail of the stout figure and the strong commonplace face as though she wished to carry with her forever their memory.

Mark strove for speech. But for the first time in his roughly aggressive career, suitable words were denied him. Alternately he longed to tell her in naked terms what she was and how utterly he despised her. Again, a rush of self-pity urged him to reproach her for the wrecking of his ideals, the blasting of his happiness. Vainly coming part way to his aid, he framed—and left unspoken—a curt sentence of farewell. And, in the end, all he could say was:

"Why didn't you tell me?"
It was not what he had intended to say. It was banal. It expressed none of the stark moods that seethed in him. Yet as she did not answer, he found himself asking once more:

"Why didn't you tell me?"
And now, unknown and unwished for, there crept into his bald question a note that was almost of entreaty. And at the sound, the dumb devil that had locked Grace's lips departed.

"Tell you?" she echoed. "Oh, if you knew how I've wanted to!"
"Then—"

"I didn't dare. I didn't dare."
"Truth and honor surely!"
"Your love meant more to me than truth and honor. I sacrificed them to keep it. I would sacrifice them and everything else to get it back. Is that shameful? Perhaps. The truth usually is. If I had told you, you

"You say I don't know what true love is," she laughed bitterly. "I'm afraid I can never learn it from you. So your love has died? Love can't die, any more than God can die. You have never loved me."

"Never. I see now that you didn't. For you don't know what love means. I lived for you. Every thought and word and act of mine was shaped for you. And for you alone. I knew you. I knew your faults, your follies, your brute savagery. And I loved you for them as well as for the good that was in you. But what was it you loved? The woman you married—or a snow-white saintly reputation? If you cared only for the reputation—that is gone forever. But if you loved me—the woman I am—then I've been everything you thought I was and wanted me to be—ever since the first moment you had the right to think of me at all. I gave you my life, from that time on and forever. And it has been all yours. Before then, it was mine."

"And yet you let me believe it was everything—your whole life—your first love?"
"It was. All that was worth the giving. All that had ever been worth the giving. It was my self. Oh, can't you see that a woman's body and heart and soul belong not to her first lover but to her first love? No woman can even guess what love is until she has found it. And I found it only when I knew you. I gave you everything."

"I'm trying to make it easy. We've never had a real quarrel, you and I, Mark. So don't let us wind up our married life with one, now. You are in the right. I am hopelessly in the wrong. I have cheated you. I admit it, and I'll accept the consequences. It is in the blood. There is much in heredity. My father is a politician. I don't know who my grandfather was. And if he had been worth knowing about, I'd know. There is a bad strain running through the family. It cropped out in me. Yes, I have cheated you. You had the right to demand in our bargain the hard-and-fast terms the world has decreed: All of a wife's life in exchange for a prayed and battered remnant of her husband's. I can't meet those terms, though I tried to fool you into believing I could. So I must meekly give up the love whose price I can't pay. Don't let me make it harder by having a scene over it. Good night. I'll stay with father until you can decide just what you want to do and on what basis we're to separate. If it would do any good to ask your forgiveness I'd ask it. That's all. Good night, Mark."

She held out her hand with a shy wistfulness. He was staring straight into her tortured eyes and did not see the gesture. The hand dropped back dimly to her side, and she moved to rejoin Blake.

But at the first step, Mark barred her way. She looked at him in tired wonder. His face was set and hard. He made no move to touch her. His voice, when he spoke, grated like a file, as he forced it between his unwilling lips.

"Grace," he began, "I've told you my love is dead. And I lied when I said it. I planned to put you out of my life. And, even while I planned, I knew I couldn't do it. It doesn't matter what I want to do or what I ought to do. Out of all this hideous tangle, blazes forth just one thing that I must do whether I want to or not. I must go on loving you with all my strength and life."

"Do you mean," she panted wildly, "do you mean that you can—that you will—"

"I mean," he cried brokenly, his self-control smashing to atoms under the hammer blows of his heart, "I mean there is nothing in all this world for me, dear love, away from you! I love you. And I can't go on without you. You are earth and heaven and hell to me. I love you. And I have forgotten everything but that. Girl of my heart, will you let me make you forget, too? Oh, I love you! I love you!"

"Haven't I paid? Won't You Say We're Square?"
would never have forgiven me. You know you wouldn't. If I've wronged you—"
"If you had loved me as a true woman loves, you would have told me. You would have had to. You could not have deceived me like this. Love doesn't feed on lies. It was my right to know everything, so that I could decide my own course. Instead, you have led me into this trap. There is no escape now. And it is too late to reproach you or to try to make you realize what you have done. You say your love for me kept you from telling? Believe that, if it is any comfort to you. I—"

Jim Blake turned from the window at sound of the telephone girl's purposely raised voice. Just within the threshold from the inner rooms of the suite, Wanda, with elaborate care, was shutting the door behind her.

Blake glanced quickly about the room.

"Yes," said Wanda, answering the question in his look and jerking her pretty head back in the direction of the rooms she had just quitted. "In there, I wouldn't worry if I were you."

CHAPTER XXIII.

The Victor?

"They didn't seem exactly to be hankering after my society in there," observed Wanda Kelly, "so I came back."

Jim Blake turned from the window at sound of the telephone girl's purposely raised voice. Just within the threshold from the inner rooms of the suite, Wanda, with elaborate care, was shutting the door behind her.

Jim Blake's grim face took on a light as incongruous as the play of sunset rays on a mummy. The mask of age and defeat seemed to melt beneath it. He took an eager step toward the inner door.

"Just a minute," Wanda halted him. "You asked me to wait. If you don't need me here any longer—"

"Yes," hesitated Blake, trouble flitting across the new light in his eyes. "I wanted to ask you—to not to let Tom know about this. His sister—"

"I'll never tell him," she promised. "I sent him away so he wouldn't find out."

"You're white, clear through," grudgingly admitted Blake. "Will you do one thing more?"
"What?"
"Bring him back to me."

"If I meet him again," she assented promptly, "I'll send—"
"I didn't say 'send,'" corrected Blake, "I said 'bring.'"
"That's different. I—"
"I'm out of politics. My own game has broken me at last. I'm old. I know it now. I never did till tonight. I'm old and I want my children around me."

"I'll tell Tom," she agreed, softened despite herself by the new suppleness in a voice that had never before been turned to the uses of entreaty. "I'll tell him. I'm sure he'll come back to you—when he understands. Good night, Mr. Blake."

"There's another thing," he broke in roughly, staying her departure, "a thing that isn't easy to say."

"Then, why say it?"
"Because," he growled, "like all things that aren't easy to say, it's a thing that's got to be said. Miss Kelly, hasn't tonight pretty nearly equaled the old debt between you and me? You and yours have suffered a lot at my hands. But, after what's happened here this evening, I guess you'll admit, as far as suffering goes, you haven't got much on me. Haven't I paid? Won't you say we're square?"

"We're—we're square, Mr. Blake," she returned in a tone she could not make wholly steady nor impersonal.

"And," pursued Blake, "and—Tom?"
"That's different, too," she faltered.

"The jangle of the telephone interrupted her. Blake, who was beside the desk, picked up the instrument.

"Hello," he called into the transmitter. "Ye—yes—she's here. Who wants her? Oh! Yes, put him on this wire."

He lowered the telephone.

"Some one to speak to you, Miss Kelly," he reported.

Mechanically, she took up the receiver, and, by long habit, her voice took its professional drone:

"Hello!" she called.
Then, turning on Blake, in surprise, she cried:
"Why, it's Tom!"
"Yes," drawled Blake. "So I gathered from the name. I'm glad. Glad clear down to the ground. For both of you. Tell him so, won't you?"

struck the conveyance, spilling out the fair driver and effecting the sudden demise of the donkey.

The owner of the automobile immediately pulled out his wallet.

"Young woman," he said, "stop crying—I will replace the animal."

"Oh, will you, indeed?" the young woman replied, through her tears. "I'm afraid sir, you flatter yourself!"

An indignant Indiana citizen told this tale of his woes to Editor Chas. B. Landis of Delphi.

"Now Charlie," said the indignant Indian, "I want to put it to you plain to see if I ain't right. Away along last spring an agent came around peddling portable bathtubs. Now, of course, I ain't got no bathtub in my house no more than some of my neighbors; so I bought one; thinking it was a good thing. He promised delivery the first of April, but no tub. In June and July and August and September, not a sign of one. Now he comes along here in the middle of October with the bathing season practically over, and wants me to take this tub, and I'll be damned if I do it."

The winter sun was butting its way over the eastern sky-line. The dawn was bitter-cold, mercilessly clear.

And into the track of the first white glittering rays walked a tired man. A man who that night had won a mighty victory. A victory that foreshadowed the richest gifts his country could bestow. Before him the future stretched bright as that winter's dawn. As dazzlingly brilliant, and as cold and starkly empty.

In Matthew Standish's ears, as he returned toward the loveless, abode that he hated to call home, still rang echoes of the pandemonium that had broken loose in the house when the Mullins bill had gone down to defeat. His arms still ached from the pump-handle of a host of shrieking admirers

PENIFIELD ON WAY TO POST IN VIENNA

Frederick C. Penfield.

Frederick Courthland Penfield of Germantown, Pa., is on his way to Vienna, where he will hold down a position as ambassador to Austria from the United States. "I want to make myself liked by the Austrian-Hungarian people," he said, before sailing. "I want to represent the United States with honor and dignity and with the best interests of both the great nations at heart."

When Mr. Penfield was appointed by President Cleveland to his first post as consul-general at Cairo his consular reports were literary gems and he was the first diplomat to attempt style in dishing up his reports.

Strenuous Life in St. Bernard. The hard climate and the perilous task undertaken by the monks of the famous St. Bernard hospice usually ruin the health of these originally robust men in the brief spell of 15 years, when they return to Martigny to conclude their days. Even the dogs are at intervals sent to Martigny for a rest.

Most Polite Thing.
There is only one thing more polite than inquiring after the health of a friend whom one meets, and that is to listen, while he tells you. —E. O. J. in The Masses.

Sends Friend to Neal Institute

Patient Says He Has No Desire For Liquor, But at Every Opportunity Advises Companions Who Are Still Drinking to Take Neal Treatment.

The satisfaction felt by those who take the Neal treatment to rid themselves of the poison of alcohol is shown by the large number of patients who go to the Institute for treatment upon the advice of friends who have been to the Institute. It is only natural that a man who has been greatly benefited and who has freed himself from the bondage of strong drink will want his drinking friends to receive the same benefit. The following letter is an illustration of the interest shown:

Gentlemen: This will be given you by my friend, Mr. B. F. Rober, who wishes to place his brotherly care for treatment. I will ask that you show him all favors possible. Both are my personal friends and it has been a pleasure to me to advise going to you for treatment.

Wish to say that I feel the same now as I did the day I left after my treatment. I have no desire at all for liquor, but at every opportunity I advise some of my companions who are still drinking to go to the Neal Institute to get rid of the poison of alcohol.

(Mr. Gray sent in three patients. He paid all the expenses of two of them.)

The Milwaukee Neal Institute is located at 444 Cass street, one block north of New Insurance Building. Consultation and advice free. Patients or friends are invited to call at the Institute, where the plan of treatment will be fully explained. Literature free on request. Neal Institute, 444 Cass St., Milwaukee, Wis.

HEALTH HINTS

Sodium Phosphate is a liver stimulant. It increases the flow of bile which is necessary to the proper digestion of food. Bile also stimulates bowel action. A good many forms of indigestion and constipation are promptly relieved by a few doses of Effervescent Sodium Phosphate taken before breakfast each morning. Jaundice or yellow skin, headaches, dizziness, sour stomach, and other complaints can be traced to the liver. Stimulate the liver and the trouble is gone. Sodium Phosphate that has always been sold at 50c a bottle for a few days we will sell at 25c a bottle. Get it today. Give it a trial. You will be much pleased.

Mr. Pfennig, our graduate pharmacist and chemist, can give you any other information you wish about this or any other remedy. Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Sts., the drug store that makes a specialty of drugs.

Michigan in Summer

Is termed the ideal vacation land and it would seem as if this were true, judging from the beautiful pictures of woods and streams illustrated in the booklet of the above title.

The many resorts of this state are described and illustrated and the book we believe will be eagerly sought for by those planning a vacation in the northern woods.

GOOPS

By GELETT BURGESS

JOSEPH HANNISBURG

Joe Hannisburg displays a lack of manners, for he "answers back!"

He answers back a saucy way;

Is he impertinent? I should say!

I hardly think you'd care for Joe;

He is a Goop, of course you know.

Don't Be A Goop!

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Persons Answering Fraudulent Advertisements Asked to Notify Gazette.

The Gazette is desirous of keeping out of its columns fraudulent advertising and asks the assistance of its patrons to that end.

There are many people who make a living through a nicely worded advertisement, offering golden opportunities, and these unscrupulous people find fertile ground for work among the masses.

Many orders are received in the Gazette mail for advertising which are returned as objectionable and where there is a question as to the qualifications the advertisement is omitted.

All newspapers have this experience.

But even with the utmost care there will be an occasional advertisement which will pass the scrutiny of the business department of the paper, and find its way into the columns.

The Gazette will deem it a favor if you will report to the office any trouble which may have been experienced through the answering of such an advertisement.

Summer Literature at Gazette Travel Bureau

Vacation Land.—Handsome piece of literature featuring the lakes of Wisconsin and Minnesota with beautiful illustrations.

The Star Lake Country, Wisconsin.—People planning to visit some northern lake will find this map useful.

Summer Homes.—This booklet describes the various summer resorts in this state and adjoining states with information regarding hotel rates, transportation facilities, etc.

A Week's Cruise, $40.00.—A folder describing the lake trip from Chicago to Niagara Falls through lakes Michigan, Huron, St. Clair and Erie, covered by the above figure will be interesting to many people favoring a lake trip.

There is a goodly supply of the literature mentioned above, which has been sent to the GAZETTE TRAVEL BUREAU for distribution.

The Bureau supplies free information about routes and rates to any point and is a subscriber to official railway guide.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, August 14, 1873.—A Janesville butcher went into the country yesterday, bought a cow for beef and started back with the animal. She went along all right until she reached the top of the hill at Milton avenue when the unreasonable bovine positively declined, in spite of the tail twisting, kicking and adjective, and entreaties to proceed another inch. She even laid down in the mud and looked a defiant look which told the man of meat that further progress was played out. So he tied her fast—her head to her feet, with a noose over her nose and went to headquarters for more help. As the cow was laying in the middle of the street a medical man drove that way and stopped to gaze upon the prostrate beast and another gentleman came and also shared in viewing the cow in her troubles. They got down and examined the letters which bound the cow and observed that the rope was tightening from moisture and was slowly choking the animal. Concluding that she had got herself into this fix, the humane gentleman lost no time in cutting the bonds that were around her neck and leaving the cow to do as she pleased. This she did before the return of the butcher and started home. She went the eight miles home as fast as she possibly could get over the ground. And now the butcher wants the medical man and his friend to go and return that cow for him. They are rather inclined to decline because they think that they did a humane act—besides they did not know about driving cows.

Ald. Martin made a speech before the Women's Temperance Union yesterday and in his speech advised the ladies to devote their work to saving the young men's lives. The venerable alderman was right about the matter and proved his knowledge of the fact that the young men of the town are the ones who need the temperance talks. The nightly occurrences upon our streets are disgraceful and the young men all the way from fifteen to twenty-five think nothing of getting drunk. It is time something was done about the matter.

DIPPY-DOPE

If a bartender lost his key could he use a whiskey? Or if a lion skin is a rug is a caterpillar?

NOTHING TOO GOOD

There was a man in our town And he was wondrous wise; He jumped into a baseball game And caught a dozen flies. Find a voter.

He hammered out the winning run And captured much renown; And now they talk of running him For Mayor of the town.
